KRAMMER KEEN TO EXTEND GOOD RECORD

Recently crowned Eastern Southland Car Club Champion, Neville Krammer of Wallacetown near Invercargill is keen to extend his impressive Catlins Coast Rally record this weekend. Krammer and his wife and co-driver Hannah have had a phenomenal run at the event, especially considering they run an elderly Subaru Legacy on a tight budget. However over the past few years they have recorded a string of top ten finishes with a best of seventh overall in 2010. The run of top ten results was interrupted in 2013 when they failed to finish but nevertheless it is a great record in one of the older cars at the pointy end of the field.

Last year the Krammer's finished ninth overall and took out Class E. Neville Krammer is looking forward to this year's event and is looking for a good finish. "I definitely enjoy the rally and I even used to enjoy watching it before I competed. The top ten is the aim again and a class win would be good too."

The Krammer's have also fashioned an outstanding record in the Eastern Southland Car Club's other rally, the Rankleburn Rally, finishing third and fourth in the past two years.
